

HAILEY'S ON IT!

"California Schemin'" Premise

LOGLINE: Hailey and Scott must tap into their friendship to win a wild TV game show and complete a list item.

THEME: I get by with a little help from my friends.

HAILEY worries when she gets called to VP BACON's office. He glares, then... pulls out a confetti cannon! He says the game show, 'Fact or Impact' is coming to Oceanside High Hailey's sweepstakes entry! 'Fact or Impact' is Hailey and SCOTT's favorite game show, and this'll be the perfect time to complete list item #203, "Win Fact or Impact." The show combines regionally-specific themed feats of brain and brawn, and as sweepstakes winner, Hailey gets to be a contestant! She immediately chooses Scott as her partner. They're made for this show! With Scott's background in parkour and wipeouts, along with Hailey's knowledge of California trivia, they're sure to win! VP Bacon then adds that Hailey will be competing against AC, who the producers chose after hearing of their long-standing rivalry - it just makes for great TV!

The day of the show, Hailey and Scott are super confident; Hailey's studied all her state trivia, and Scott's been practicing his log rolling and stunts. But they're shocked when AC shows up with his partner... SCORCH (think an American Gladiator/Venice Beach bodybuilder), who A.C. conveniently got re-enrolled as a student. AC: "He never finished high school, so it's perfectly legal cheating!" To make matters worse, as Hailey and Scott regroup they don't see a CHAOS BOT pop in and out of a portal to swap their names on the scoreboard! Now Scott will have to answer super hard trivia questions, while Hailey does the physical challenges... against Scorch! The contest commences, and Scott and Hailey are both out of their element. AC and Scorch dominate, giving them a huge lead going into the final challenge. For the last event, the players must climb to the top of their own Redwood tree while playing a password-type game that releases a branch to climb with each right answer. AC and Scorch's lead puts them right near the top; they only need one question right to win, while Hailey and Scott are at the bottom. AC assumes it's in the bag, until he can't get Scorch to guess a simple answer. Hailey sees her chance. In an epic back-and-forth password game using inside jokes and clues only they understand, Hailey and Scott make it to the top of their Redwood with one answer left to win. AC panics and tries to cheat by climbing up Scorch to the top. Scott gets the last password right, just as Scorch finally guesses their word correctly, sending a branch shooting out and knocking AC onto a padded mat below, losing the game and sending Hailey and Scott to victory!
